LOCAL NOTICES.

"Portraits Glazed."
This is a new style of picture now being produced by Wm. Winter, the artist of this city. These pictures are creating much interest in all the principal Eastern and Western cities, being altogether new. They are unlike photographs, being raised and beautifully enameled over the entire surface, soft in tone, but distinct in the lights and shades. No one who sees them fails to admire them, or to give the artist an order. We have been shown a number of pictures of well-known ladies and gentlemen of the city, and have no hesitation in pronouncing them perfectly splendid. We would therefore advise all who take interest in such matters or desire pictures, to call upon Mr. Winter at his gallery and examine his work in this new branch of the shadow-capturing art. 9-14-17

Louis Herbert has PILSENER.

Don't Forget!
If you want to have, etc., that A. Halley has changed his place of business and can now be found at 115 Commercial avenue, next door to the Arab engine house, where he will be pleased to see you and give you bargains as of old. 9-30-17

Cisterns Cleaned.
Persons having cisterns needing pumping out and repairing can have it done promptly and at prices to suit the times, by calling on J. S. Hawkins, Cross street. I have a man and pump employed all the time for the purpose. 9-16-17

Want-d
Everybody to know that the place to get—
A smooth shave,
A good shampoo,
A fashionable hair-cut,
Or anything in that line,
Is at the GRAND CENTRAL BARBER SHOP, corner Eighth and Commercial. 9-8-17 J. GEORGE STRINHOUSE.

PILSENER at Louis Herbert's.

Dr. Sherman, the great Specialist, 509 North Sixth street, has gained an enviable reputation in the speedy manner in which he treats all chronic diseases. See advertisement for his great Syphilis Eradicator, endorsed by the medical faculty everywhere. 9-18-17.

Interest on Deposits.
The Alexander County Bank will pay interest on deposits in the savings department. 10-5-17

Notice of Removal.
C. Koch has removed his boot and shoe shop from the old stand to his new brick building (one block below), No. 50 Commercial avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets, where he will keep the best home made and St. Louis custom made boots and shoes, made of the best material; good workmanship and in the latest styles. All orders promptly attended to. 9-23-17.

PILSENER at Louis Herbert's.

To the Citizens of Cairo.
I would inform my many friends, that I am still in the auction business, and ready to attend to all sales that may offer. My long experience in this business needs no comment—it is no experiment on my part, and parties entrusting goods to my care need not be afraid, as I am an "equib" or novice in the business.

Special attention given to real estate and out-door sales, as I have never missed making a sale. D. HARTMAN, Auctioneer. Corner Sixth street and Commercial Av. 7-31-17

Delicious PILSENER at Louis Herbert's.

A No. 1 Laundry.
It is now conceded that Mrs. Coleman, the laundress, No. 12 Fourth street, between Washington & Commercial avenues, has one of the best conducted laundry establishments in the city, and landlady of hotels and boarding houses will find it to their advantage to call upon her. Her prices are as follows: Hotel and boarding-house washing, 75 cents per dozen. For piece work prices are as follows: Single shirt and collar, 10c; per dozen 80c; socks 5c; two collars, 5c; two handkerchiefs, 5c; vests 20c; and all gentlemen's wear, 80c. per dozen. Ladies' dresses, 25 to 50c; skirts 10 to 20c; drawers 10 to 15c; two pair hose 5c; two collars 5 to 10c. For ladies' plain clothes, $1.25 per dozen; done promptly, and promptly delivered. Patronage solicited. 8-31-17

A Cook Wanted.
A good cook wanted immediately at the BULLETIN office.

General Items.
—Miss Gattie Woodward is expected home on Wednesday night.
—The Rev. Mr. Gilham and bride arrived in this city on Friday night.
—The family of Mr. H. L. Morrill have returned to their home in Evansville.
—Choice cranberries at the New York Store.
—The Library Association held its regular weekly meeting yesterday afternoon.
—And now all the horses in A. J. Carl's livery stable have been attacked with the epizootic.
—Huffer is still at work repairing the office and bar-room of the Planters' House.
—Mrs. A. A. Hains, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is improving rapidly.
—You can save 20 per cent, by buying your boy's winter boots and shoes of O. Haythorn & Co.
—Mr. William Reed, agent of the Phoenix Insurance Company, of Brooklyn, New York, is in the city.
—Milton Nobles' company left Cairo last night on the steamer Belle of Memphis for Memphis, where they will stay during the week.
—Mr. D. C. Axtel, who was lately married to a young lady of Little Rock, is expected to arrive in Cairo with his bride to-morrow.
—The Alexander County Bank will pay interest on deposits in the savings department.
—Mr. P. W. Barclay leaves for Chicago to-day to attend the meeting of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar.
—Judge Bird says our city is becoming extremely pious. He hasn't done any business in his court for three or four days.
—Milton Nobles and Alonzo Swartz, cocka hunt in the woods of Kentucky, opposite this city, yesterday. They are both experts with the gun.
—The city council was to have met on Friday night, but not enough Aldermen were present to make a quorum, and they dispersed to come together again to-morrow night.
—Mr. R. H. Downing and bride, of Sandoval, who are on their wedding tour, and who have been visiting friends in Cairo for the past two days, left last night for St. Louis.
—Those who need winter boots should call on R. Jones, Commercial avenue. His stock of French and Domestic calf skins is the best in the market.
—The Son says it does not intend to pay any more attention to "Index." How unkind it is for Davis to thus blast the fondest hopes of "Index," who must now certainly be totally crushed.
—Services at the Methodist church, corner of Eighth and Walnut streets, will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Gilham to-day at the usual hours. Sunday school at 3 o'clock.
—Just received and for sale by Mathews & Uhl, No. 64 Ohio Levee, 20,000 pounds Bacon—Sides, Shoulders and Hams. 10-22-17.
—The next and second sociable of the season, under the auspices of the Liberal Religious Association, will take place at their hall next Wednesday night. All are invited to attend.
—Miss Annie Pitcher will sing at the lecture of Mrs. Dr. Wardner on Tuesday evening. She is one of Cairo's favorite singers, and will add a great deal to the interest of the event.
—There will be the usual services at the Presbyterian church, Eighth street, between Walnut street and Washington avenue, Rev. Mr. George, pastor, this morning and evening at the usual hours. Sunday school at 3 o'clock.
—Some kind of an animal has been making sad havoc among the chickens all over town. The poultry pens of Captain Parker, in the upper part of town, have been the scene of a big slaughter, as well as those of Mr. W. H. Morris.

steamer Belle Memphis for Memphis, where he will meet the James Howard, and enter upon the duties of his new position. He will take charge of and superintend the passenger business of the Howard.

—Harry Greeley, son of Mr. G. H. Greeley, has gone to Wisconsin.

—Large stock clothing to be sold out without reserve, at C. Hanny's.

—The Milton Nobles' theatrical company have gone, and those who neglected to see them missed a rare treat.

—Election day is drawing near, and the candidates are making much of the intervening time.

BIG INDUCEMENTS OFFERED IN CIGARS AND TOBACCO, AT COWERTHWAIT & PHILLIPS.

—If there was no quorum at the council Friday night, why did the few members there go through the adjourning process?

—"Sweet was the smile of the beautiful moon, as it peeped through the curtain of night"—on Peltz, who didn't sleep any in the county jail.

—We have on hand a good stock of youths' and boys' custom-made clothing, that we will close out at less than cost. O. HAYTHORN & CO.

—For cork-soled boots or shoes, go to R. Jones, the Commercial avenue boot and shoe maker. He is a first-class workman and never fails to please.

—The next amusement on the tapis is Rothchild's Royal Victoria Circus and Menagerie, which will visit Cairo next Wednesday. It is said to be an excellent show.

—A very large assortment of German-town yarn, Bernah zephyrs, and every article pertaining to this department in all shades and colors, at J. Burger & Co's.

—J. Burger & Co. have now on hand the most elegant stock of 2 and 3 button Kid Gloves ever brought to this city, and are determined to sell them at remarkably low figures.

—The lecture of Mrs. Dr. Wardner, before the Library Association, will take place on Tuesday evening in the Presbyterian church. Her subject will be "A Fashionable Folly," and a brilliant and interesting address may be looked for. None should fail to hear her.

—Shawls and Cloaks of all the late styles ranging from the cheapest to the finest. J. Burger & Co. have paid particular attention to this department, and are able to undersell any house in the city. Call and be convinced.

—The young man O'Brien, who represented himself as landlord of Mrs. Gaffney's hotel a few days ago, and thereby obtained about eighteen dollars in money from unsuspecting parties, and also got into the good graces of a gentleman from whom he borrowed an overcoat, to go to the depot, and who then stole the same good-natured man's shoes and lit out, has not been heard from yet, though the chances are that he will come to grief very soon.

—The "patent pocket stove," which may be seen at the drug store of Barclay Bros., is one of the small but valuable patents of the times. The pocket stove is what its name indicates—a stove which may be carried in the pocket, and on which, small as it is, tea or coffee can be made, oysters stewed, eggs boiled, or steaks cooked in a few minutes. Fifteen cents worth of alcohol will serve as fuel for the stove for a dozen meals. The use of the pocket stove makes cooking a pastime, and after she has seen it, no woman will be content to be without one. For other purposes, those of the nursery, sick room, traveling, etc., this little apparatus is admirably adapted. It is entirely safe, emits no disagreeable smoke or scent and is prepared for use in an instant of time. In fact, the Gorham patent pocket stove must be seen to be appreciated. It will doubtless come into extensive use, and we advise our readers to call at Barclay's and examine it.

—The Rev. Mr. Gilbert has so far recovered that he will officiate at the Church of the Redeemer to-day. Hours of service, 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday-school at 3 p.m.

—Mary Johnson, a colored woman, had a hen that she called "Liza." This feminine chicken was the idol of Mary's heart, and she was eleven years old. "Liza" was an inflationist, and went to Mary's cousin's house, under which humble cot she built her nest, and commenced laying eggs to bring forth a brood of young ones. But one day, Mary's cousin felt as if she would like to have a fat hen, and taking a broomstick, she laid for "Liza," and when she came from under the house, knocked her crazy, and then wrung her neck, picked the feathers all off of her, and had a good meal, notwithstanding "Liza" was rather tough. When Mary became acquainted with the sad doom of "Liza," she was wrathful, and determined to have vengeance. But let her grief, mingled with the fearful and that ragged within her breast, was too much for her, and she went off into spasms. She spit blood and frothed at the mouth, and finally she strained herself until she spit up her palate. But Mary is a woman of nerve, and her anger and grief grew greater as she thought of the untimely death of her pet and the loss of the use of her tongue forever, and she determined to get the feathers plucked from the defunct "Liza" and keep them in memory of her. So she repaired to her cousin's house and demanded Liza's downy wardrobe, which she was given. But when she caught sight of the feathers that had once shielded the gentle Liza from the winter's blast, she got worse than ever, and she went for her. After beating her unmercifully, and the excitement of the moment had worn off, she again went into spasms, and when last heard from, she was spitting herself away, with a good prospect of being all gone in a day or two.

Notice.
I hereby notify the business men of this city, and public at large, that I will not be responsible for any debts contracted in my name, unless made by me personally. MRS. ANNIE COYNE. 10-23-17

Milton Nobles' Troupe.

Milton Nobles' excellent troupe made its final appearance last night to a large and unexceptionable audience. In the writing of this play Mr. Nobles, who is evidently as well acquainted with the pen as with the stage, has displayed a talent for the blending of dramatic events that is enviable. The commencement of the "Bohemians and Detectives," where the secret of the will is revealed, immediately arouses the interest of the audience, which never ceases until the pistol of the suicide announces that the finality has been reached. The play is American in its features, with the necessary number of American idioms; but, like all plays of this period, the almost hidden contours of other sensation plays can be seen cropping out. Any one who has witnessed a rendition of the "Ticket-of-Leave Man," is immediately struck with a resemblance to that play in the "Bohemians and Detectives." For Moses Solomon in Mr. Nobles' drama, we have Moss in the Ticket-of-Leave Man; and although their missions are different, they fill the same place in both pieces. Then by a close examination it will be seen that the other characters resemble each other in some respects. Want of space precludes our making the comparisons. The fire scene, on which the strength of the whole play depends, is one of splendid arrangement, and if put upon the boards with the whole effect intended, would carry by storm the most sedate audience in the universe. The search after new sensations for scenic display by dramatic authors, for the last ten years, has been unremitting, and continued until the field of research was almost abandoned, and the public had commenced to yearn for the old school plays, or the quiet, and sometimes oppressive, society superfluities, where quick situations, rich robes, and broken marriage vows, make up for the seemingly spontaneous combustion in the middle of the sensation play. When we say that Mr. Nobles' play resembles, somewhat, in character and drift of incident, the "Ticket-of-Leave Man," we do not wish to detract from Mr. Nobles' merits as an author, for we recognize in his play positive evidences of dramatic tact and talent. One marked feature of his play is the economy as to number of characters. With a few artists, and all above mediocrity, he presents a play lavish and striking in incident. We hope that in his Southern tour he and his company may meet with unexampled success.

ALL O. K.
CAIRO & ST. LOUIS RAILROAD COMPANY,
CAIRO, ILL., Oct. 20, 1875.

The trains of the Cairo & St. Louis Railroad continue to run regularly to their depots in the city. No trains have been stopped outside the city in consequence of the "wash in the levee." All statements made to the contrary have been made without reference to the facts. Trains on this road run regularly to and from corner of Commercial avenue and Second street, and from the Freight House, corner of Jefferson avenue and Fourth street. There is no danger whatever to the trains on this road through the encroachments of the Mississippi river on the Cairo levee.

"Slop Shop" Goods at Exorbitant Prices.

We keep Goods made in the best Manner and of the Best Style.

NO "HAND-ME-DOWNS,"

No goods that smell of powder of the war of 1812; goods well made and sponged, only for sale—its guaranteed, as we are already known for such. Others fight competition of that kind with "shoddy" goods, made by second-hand dealers. Keep your eyes open. Listen to no stories that sound like "soft soap," as it's a very poor merchant that cannot defend his own business.

A trial is what we ask to make customers out of you all. We don't ask your patronage on account of being "friends" or old acquaintances as we have been known here for so many years—but to save you the slightest dollar. The time for paying for friendship is gone. Our stock of Fine Underwear, the largest in the city, at prices to suit all. We make war on high prices. As Usual.
